

Franke expands the Active Plus Soap Dispenser range

Franke has extended its Active Plus Soap Dispenser collection with the introduction of a chic SilkSteel finish.

The Active Plus Soap Dispenser in SilkSteel finish gives a neat, chic and ultra-streamlined look which complements an array of styles in the kitchen. Compatible with all types of work surfaces, the Active Plus Soap Dispenser is the perfect partner to support good hand hygiene in the kitchen and throughout the home.

Franke's Active Plus soap dispensers are available in five stylish finishes of Matt Black, Smoked Chrome, Brass and as well as classic Chrome and the new SilkSteel finish. The choice of finishes and simple styling means it can sit happily next to any tap from Franke's extensive portfolio, but it co-ordinates in particular with the Active Plus, Active Plus Pull-Out Spray, Neptune, Krios and Orlando tap ranges.

It stands at just 65mm high above the worksurface and has an easy-to-operate pump action for all liquid soaps, while below the counter sits a 300ml refillable bottle which can help reduce plastic waste consumption. Further information is available from kal.ie

New colourway in Caple's Geotech collection

Caple's Geotech have added a new colourway, Mink, to four of their collections.

The new mink colourway means that Caple now offers six colour options across its Sotera, Canis, Veis and Leesti ranges.

Mink brings an earthy tone to the heart of the home, adding a sense of bringing the outside in, and joins desert sand, which has a warm, natural finish. The anthracite and black are infused with a sparkling metallic fleck and chalk white features a fresh, clean look for every kitchen. Pebble grey and grey offer on-trend, cool tones to complete this stylish colour variation.

Product manager Luke Shipway explains: 'We have introduced mink to four ranges, which are from our signature granite composite Geotech collection. Not only is every model extremely resistant to daily use but there are now even more colour options to choose from to add a personal touch to your kitchen design.

'Geotech comprises of around 80 per cent natural materials and it's highly durable, making it the perfect choice for a busy kitchen. You can feel confident your sink will retain its vibrant finish, it should not permanently stain if cleaned regularly and it's both cut and scratch-resistant. Energy consumption, during the manufacturing process, is also kept to a minimum.'

For more information visit: pottercowan.com

Heritage brass launches new range

Introducing the new Signac Collection from Heritage Brass.

Leading, luxury architectural and electrical brass hardware brand, Heritage Brass has announced the launch of its new Signac collection. A capsule collection comprising of round rose door handles, elongated cabinet handles and circular cupboard knobs, Signac ensures a seamless finish in interiors.

Suited to both modern and traditional abodes, choose from an array of exquisite details within each product range to perfectly complement bedrooms, kitchens and bathrooms of all styles. From the beautifully smooth appearance of the Phoenix design, to the textured ribbed appeal of the Spectral range, simply combine the design of choice with its matching counterpart for an eye-catching final touch to any space.

Available in seven striking finishes, including Polished Nickel and Satin Brass, there's a complementary colour to suit all interior schemes.

Bringing unparalleled elegance into interiors, the new Signac collection from Heritage Brass by M. Marcus, ensures a high-quality stand-out finish, simply pair with electrical sockets and switches in matching shades to create a truly cohesive and sleek interior to admire.

For more information visit m-marcus.com/heritage-brass